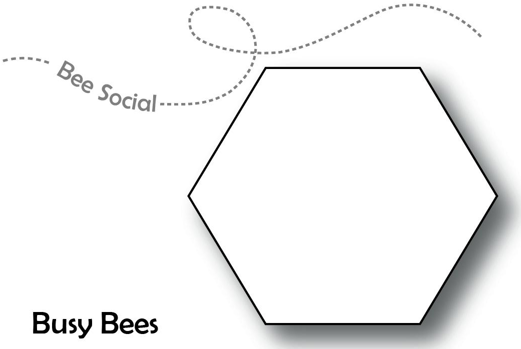
A free-bee.

Hospitality Pavilion



Busy Bees

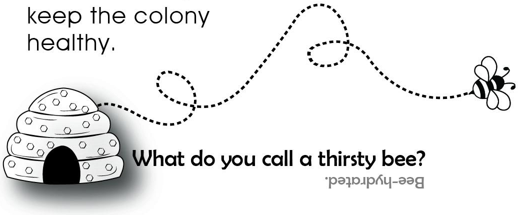
Bees beat their wings 11,400 times in one minute.

Buzz, Buzz, Buzzzzzzzzz . . . they are noisy!

Bees communicate with each other through dance moves. They dance in circles and loops and even wag their tails to show other bees where flowers are.

Be Friends with Bees

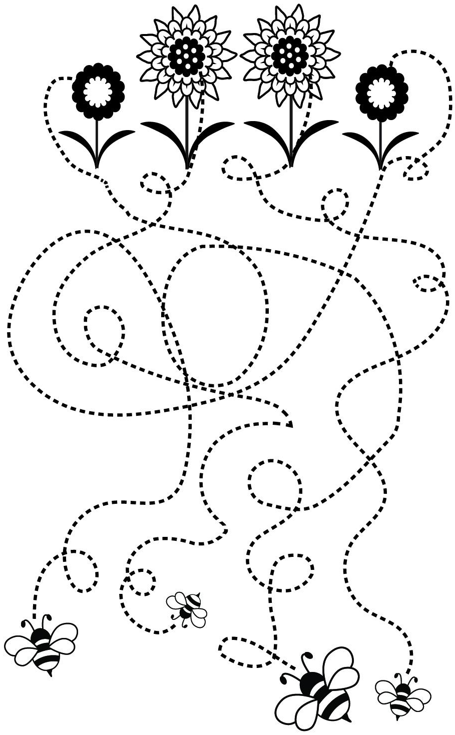
Sadly, colonies of honey bees have been disappearing and bees need help. Beekeepers are a honey bee's best friend. They take care of and keep the colony healthy.



What do you call a thirsty bee?

Bee-hydrated.

Help the BEES find the flowers!



What can you do to help the bees?

Plant pollinator-friendly plants such as wild flowers. As long as there are fruits, vegetables, and flowers, these fuzzy pollinators will happily go out and do their daily work.

Pollination

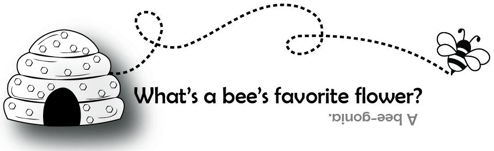
Honey bees are super-important pollinators for flowers, fruits and vegetables. They help plants grow.

When a bee crawls over a flower, pollen sticks to its antennae and hair. Bees transfer pollen among plants. This allows plants to produce seeds and fruit.

Colors on a flower help attract bees. They especially like bright blue and violet flowers, but they can't see the color red!

Bee Fact

Bees are insects.
They have 6 legs,
5 eyes and
2 sets of wings.



What's a bee's favorite flower?

A bee-gonia.

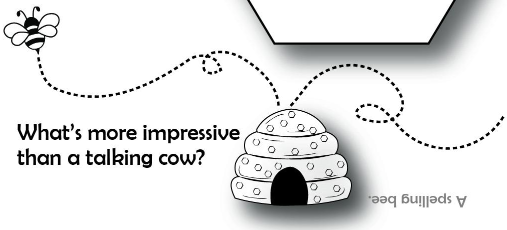
Bee Curious

Home Sweet Hive

A large group of honey bees is called a colony. They live in a house called a hive.

The average bee hive can hold as many as 50,000 bees. Three types of bees live in the hive:

> WORKERS are female, they are the smallest bees, and the hive is home to thousands of them. They visit flowers and bring back nectar to make honey. DRONES are male bees, and there are only a few hundred of them. Then there's THE QUEEN. Her job is to lay eggs. There is only one queen.



What's more impressive than a talking cow?

A spelling bee.

Bee Creative

The Queen Bee

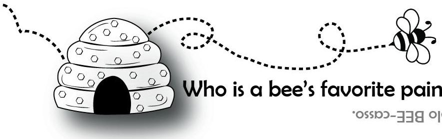
Every hive has one queen, and she is bigger than the other bees.

The queen bee lays eggs of future baby bees. She is so important that the colony cannot survive without her.

On average the queen lays over 2,000 eggs per day. That's about 1 milllion baby bees in her life!

Why bees are important to farmers.

If there were no honeybees around to help pollinate crops, farmers would produce one third less fruits and vegetables than they do today.



Who is a bee's favorite painter?

Pablo BEE-casso.

History Museum

Bee Happy

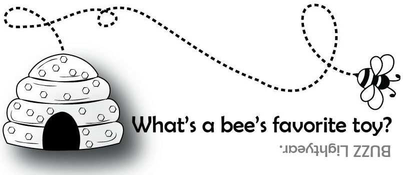
Sweet Yummy Honey

The honeybee is the only insect that makes food man can eat, HONEY.

A hive of bees will fly over 55,000 miles to make 1 pound of honey and can create 100 pounds of honey in a year.

Honeycombs

Bees build honeycombs in the hive as a place to store their honey. After bees collect nectar from flowers and make it into honey, they put it in the small 6 sided areas that make up the honeycomb.



What's a bee's favorite toy?

BUZZ Lightyear.
